About

Reader....writer....musician...

Please drop a message if you want me to read your work. I will try my best to read the works of all those who follow me, but if I haven't read yours let me know.

I play the piano and drums. I've taken up writing a little while ago as a coping method. Nowadays it's the only thing keeping me sane.

Three things about me:

1) I adore mnms

2) I have two sides to myself, one interacts with the outer world, while the other sits back and comments.

3) I secretly like to give people I don't know these elaborate possible backgrounds to fill in my free time. :D

You can ask me all sorts of random questions, I never get offended. As long as it doesn't pertain to my real life identity which I will never reveal.

I'm starting up a tumblr soon, crossing my fingers that works out.

I've started on a Seth Clearwater and Jane Volturi fanfiction called 'Breathe'. I hope you'll all consider checking it out. I wasn't going to republish it till April, but my friend convinced me otherwise.

Oh I'm more of a voter than a commenter, but if I've read your work and voted, that means I liked it.

Well if u ever wanna start up a random story with me then let me know, I've always been interested in collabs.

Okay I'll end it here, welcome to my profile :D

He was volatile. She was still. He wanted her. She humored him. They were enemies before their creation. However they have never met. When Jane is ordered to go and keep an eye on the vampire/werewolf treaty as well as the half vampire child she ne...
